

FROM THE OCEAN TO THE TABLE

Freshness counts. And you can count on Brookley International to handle your fresh seafood products as if they were going on our dinner plate tonight.

Nothing is a more valued or appreciated commodity to American restaurants and home cooks than fresh seafood. Brookley International is located adjacent to the Brookley Airport where your seafood will be flown in. Our Brookley team will meet the plane ready to unload, inspect, inventory and reship your product in the least amount of time possible, assuring the consumer the freshest possible offering of the Chilean sea market

If storage is required before shipment of your frozen seafood, cold storage is readily available within the Brookley complex. This facility provides freezer, cooler and dry storage that offers small to large volume services. Brookley International prides itself in providing accurate, timely and cost effective distribution of your products to any point accessible by air, ship, rail, or truck.

